Report on the Special Lecture on the Origin of Indian Classical Literature

On December 21, 2023, the Department of English, Holy Cross College, Agartala, organized a special lecture titled "Origin of Indian Classical Literature." The event featured Dr. Sargakumar Mishra, Assistant Professor in the Department of Sahitya, School of Language, Literature and Culture, Central Sanskrit University, Agartala, as the resource person.

The session took place in the college auditorium and witnessed the active participation of around 80 students from the department of English, along with the faculty members. Dr. Mishra delivered an insightful lecture exploring the rich heritage and foundational texts of Indian classical literature, delving into its origins, major contributors, and its relevance in contemporary times.

The session also included a Q&A segment where participants engaged with the speaker, posing thoughtful questions and discussing various aspects of Indian literary traditions.

The event concluded with a vote of thanks from the organizers, emphasizing the importance of such academic engagements in broadening students' understanding of literary history. The lecture proved to be an enlightening experience, leaving a lasting impression on the attendees.
