

The Department arranged a talk on the much-acclaimed book,

"The Makers of the Middle-Class Society in British Bengal" published by Bharti Publications." The talk was delivered by Sri Pratick Mallick (the author of the book) in Room number F1-08 of the college from 9:00 to 10:30 AM. The day began with a brief introduction of the author and his book by Dr. Sharmistha Rakshit. This was followed by an enriching discussion of the book by Mr. Mallick. The speaker of the day elaborated upon how the Bengali stalwarts in the British era questioned the prevailing customs of the society and modernized society. His discussion covered many important areas like Ram Mohan Roy's Sati abolition, Rabindranath Tagore's views on unity among the Indians, and his and his family's involvement in the National movement. The students and faculty members were hugely enlightened by his deliverance. Then there was an interactive session between the author and the students of the department on the subject of the book. The vote of thanks was proposed by Miss Myleodee Devi.
